

caillou

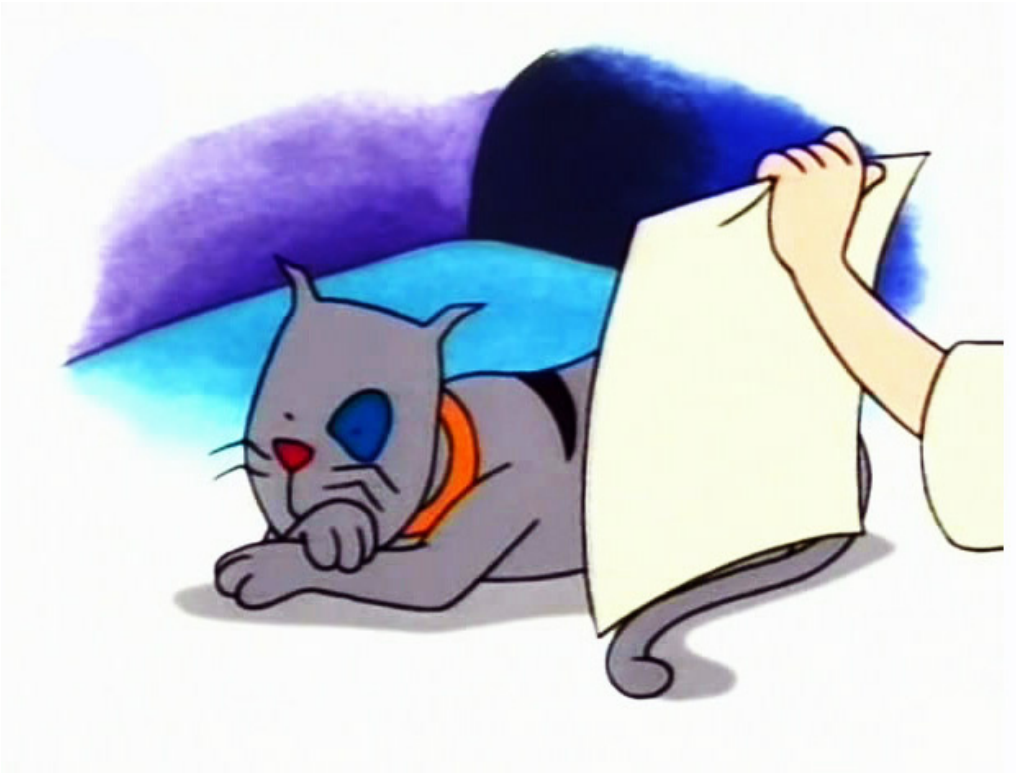

Book 5-2

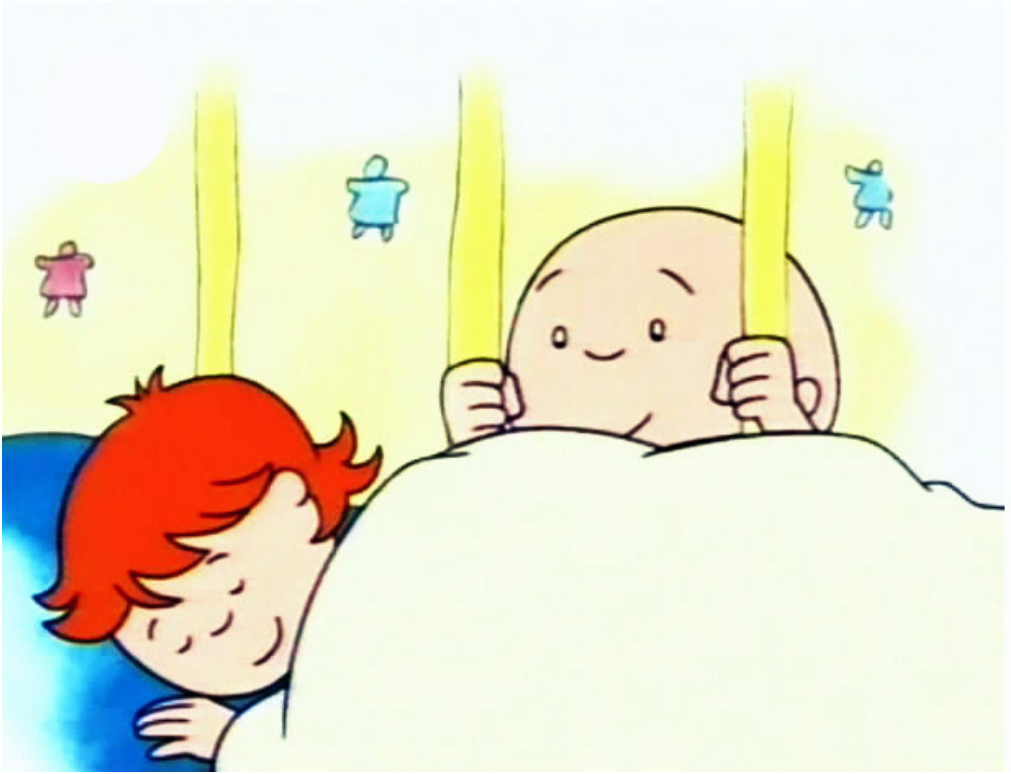

Girl: Grandma, come read us a story, A story about Caillou.

Storyteller: I wonder what Caillou did today. This story is called "Caillou and Gilbert".

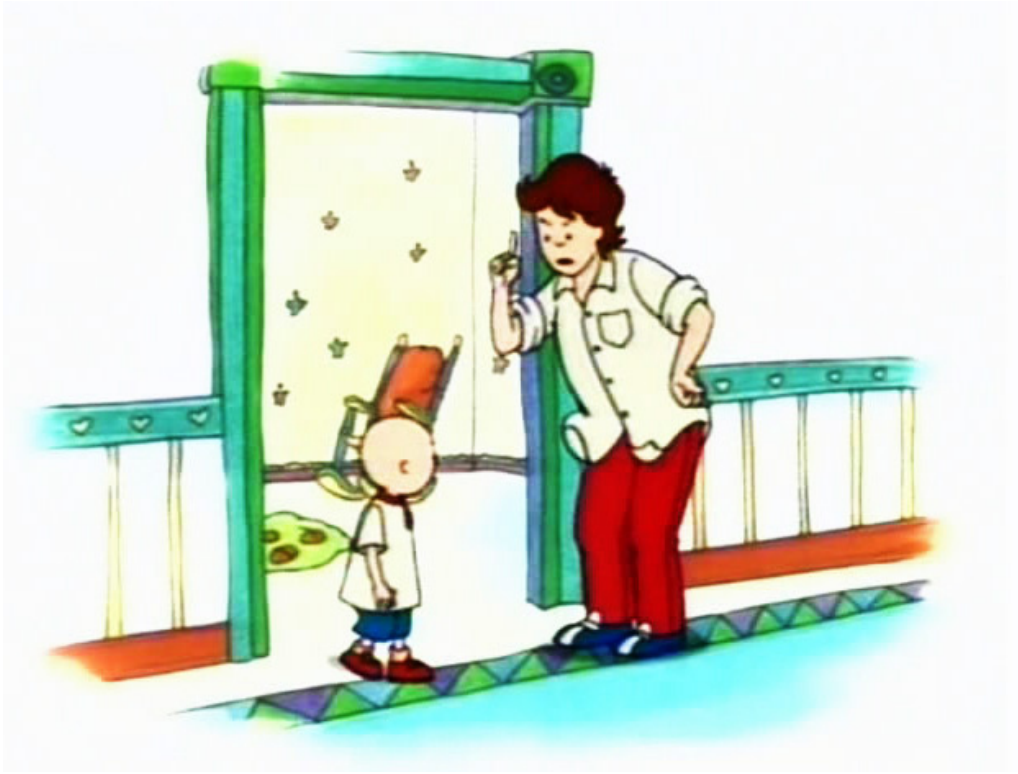

Caillou: Look, Gilbert, this is a picture of a cat. I'm tired of coloring. I want to play with someone.

Caillou: Rosie

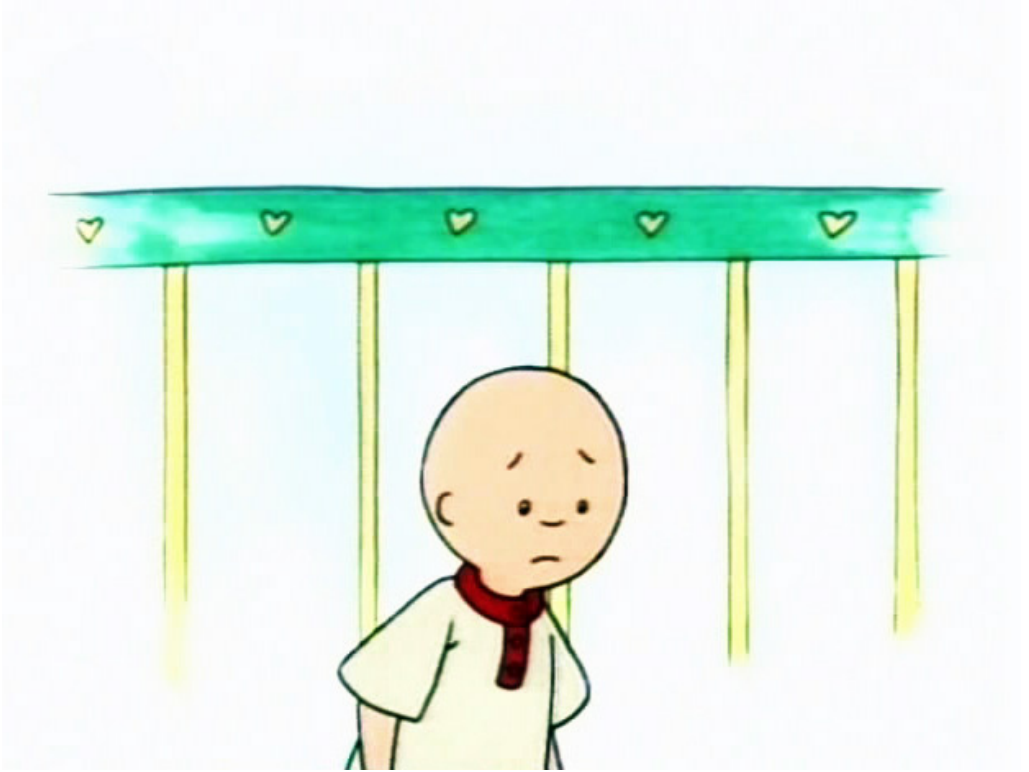

Storyteller: Caillou wanted to play with someone, but he knew he wasn't supposed to wake up Rosie when she was taking her nap.

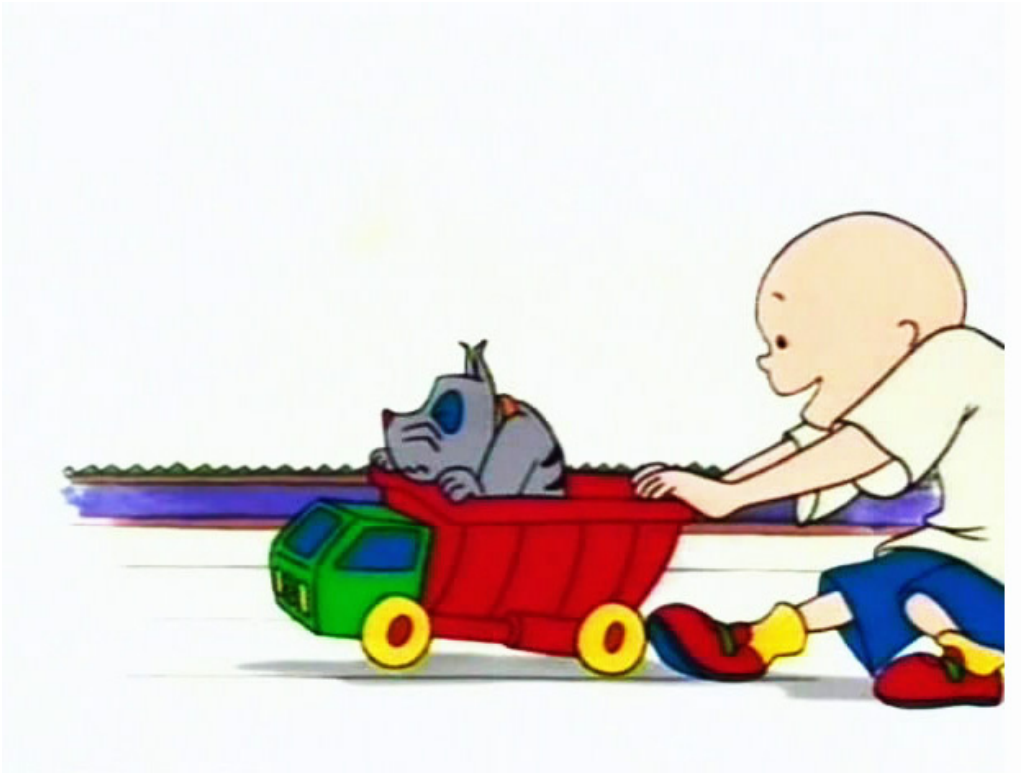

Daddy: Caillou. Shh... You know better than that, Caillou.

Caillou: But I need someone to play with, Daddy.

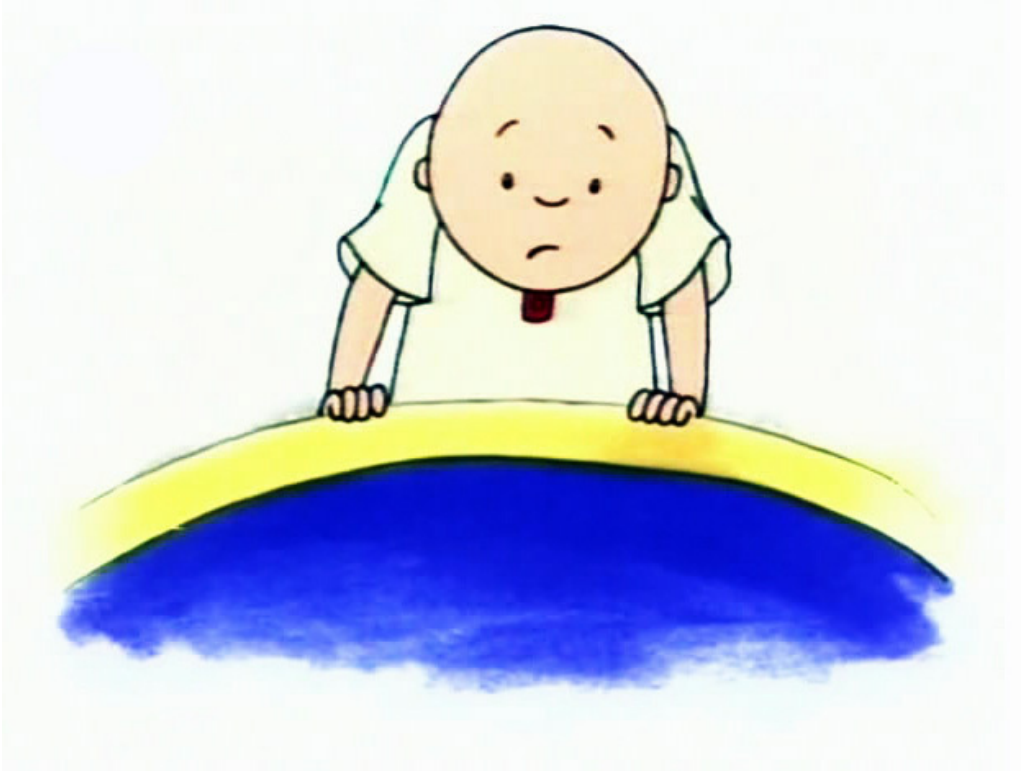

Daddy: Sorry, Caillou, we can't play with you now. You can play with Rosie later.

Storyteller: Caillou didn't want to play with someone later. He wanted to play with someone right now.

Caillou: Do you want to play with me,
Gilbert?

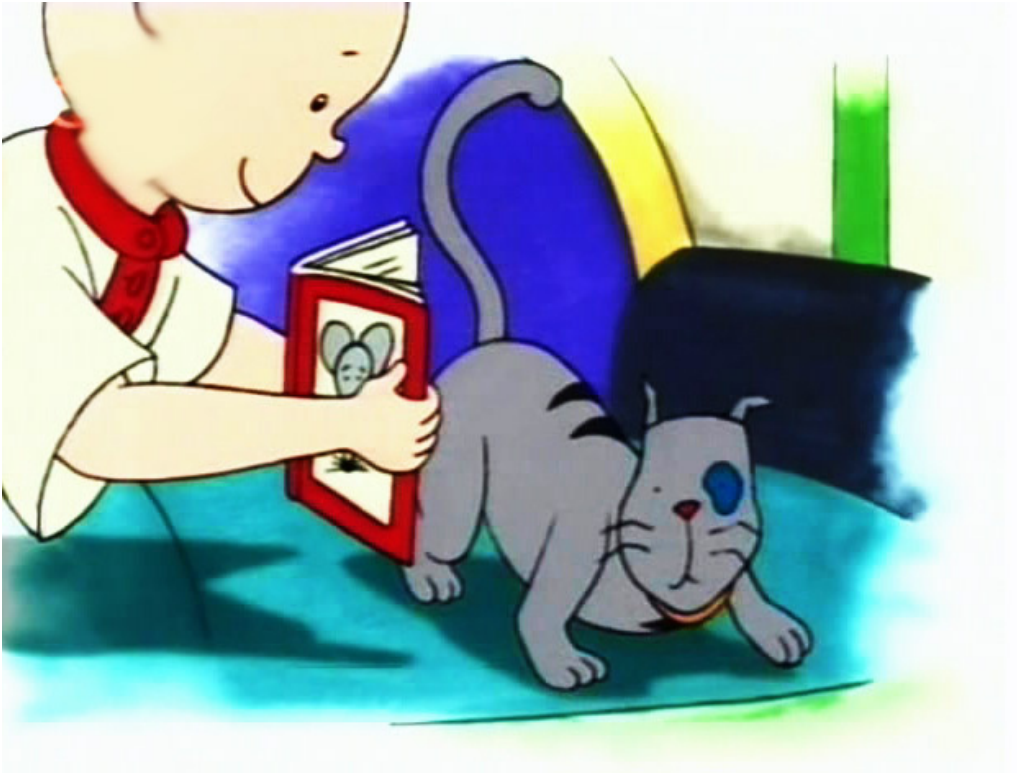

Storyteller: Caillou suddenly thought of another game they could play.

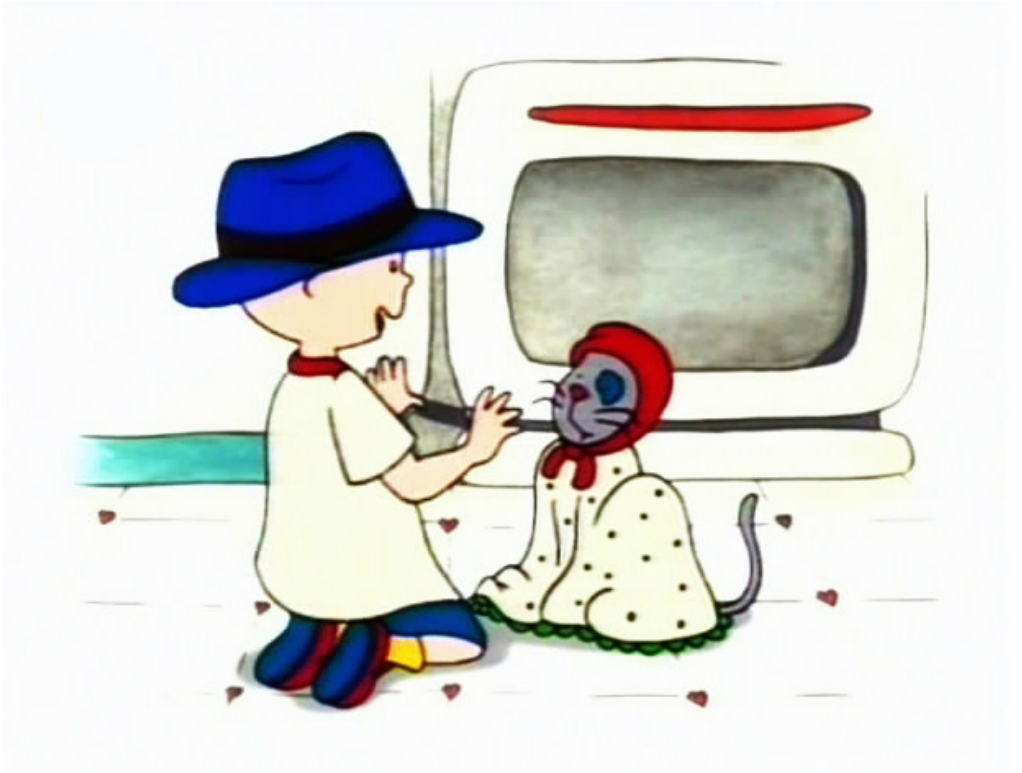

Caillou: I'll be right back.

Storyteller: Caillou knew that Gilbert would not like a story about a dog, but he thought Gilbert would love a mouse story, and a story with birds.

Caillou: Look, Gilbert. It's story time, Gilbert. This is a story about a mouse named... Mousie. One day Mousie... Mousie had a friend named... Meesie..., and one day Meesie and Mousie... Gilbert, look at the cute mouse. Gilbert, look here.

Caillou: I know what we can play.

Caillou: Hold still, Daddy will take you for a nice ride.

Daddy: Here, take that corner.

Caillou: Gilbert. Gilbert and I are playing dress-up. I'm the Daddy.

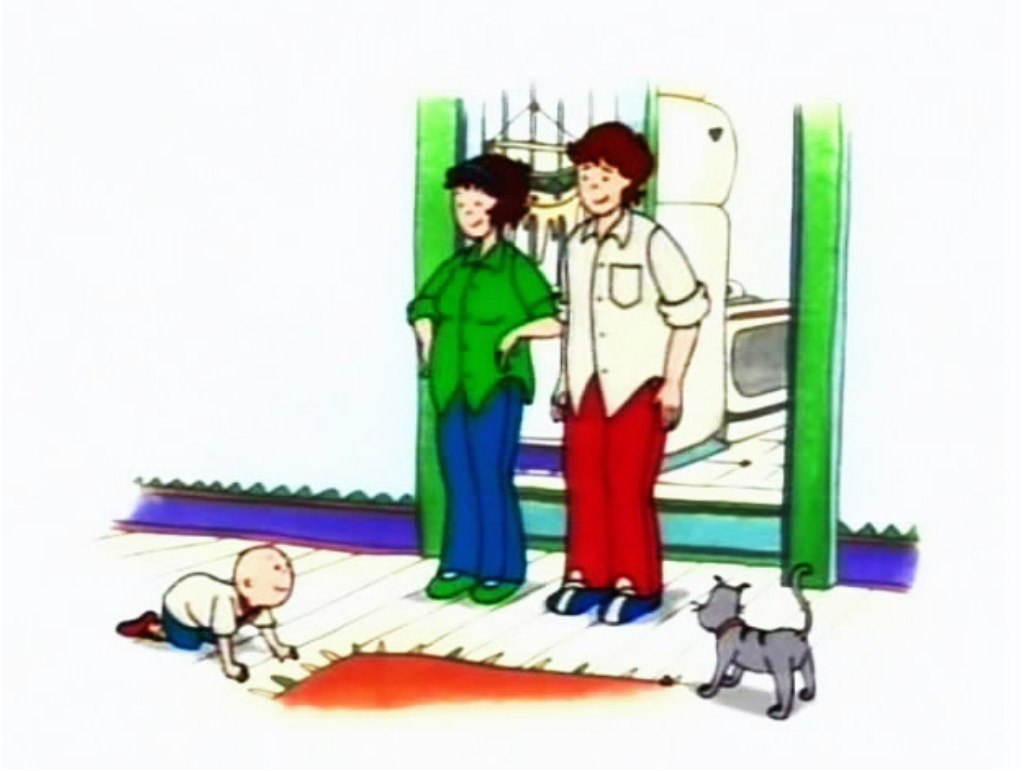

Mommy: Caillou, dress-up is a people game.

Caillou: A people game?

Mommy: You know how you don't like to play baby games? That's because you're not a baby. Right?

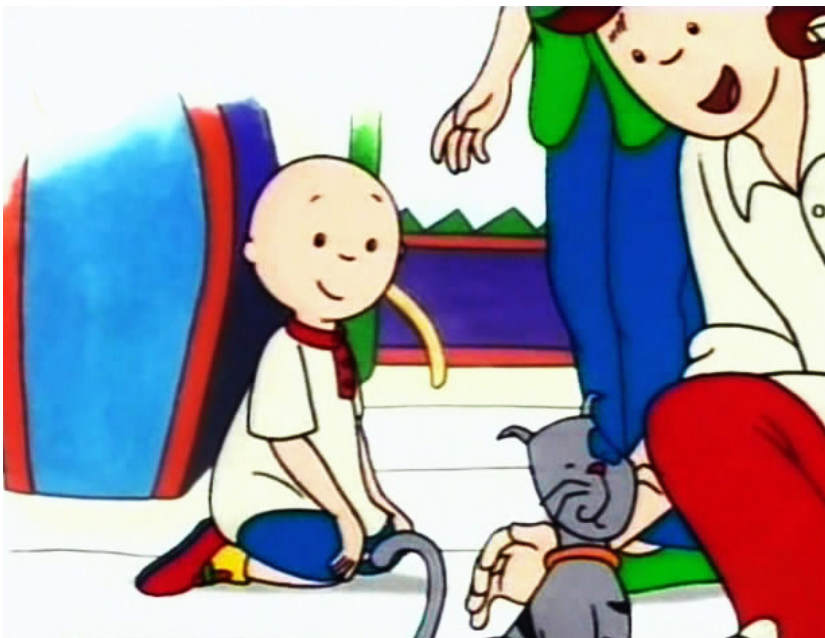

Caillou: Yes.

Mommy: Well, Gilbert's a kitty cat, not a person. So he likes playing kitty cat games. Do you know what games he likes best?

Caillou: Yes. You like cat games, don't you, Gilbert? Meow. Get it, Gilbert. Meow. We're kitty cats, playing a game together. Meow.

Daddy: What nice kitty cats we have!
